STOCK REPORT.

Cattle Values Last Week Advanced, 10 to 30 Cents.

KANSAS CITY Stock Yards, Jan. 26.—Cattle values last week advanced 10 to 30 cents, with greatest gains on butcher grades, next on steers and feeders, then light beef steers, heavy beef steers taking the short end of the gain. Of 30,000 cattle and calves received, 13,000 were brought by farmers and feeders. The great bulk of killing cattle were medium class, though one lot of big Missouri steers brought $9.25, highest price ever paid here in January.

Receipts today are 17,000 cattle, and the same preponderance of middle grade killers and stock cattle and feeders is noted that ruled last week. Best native steers here today brought $8.70 and $8.80, thought prime steers would bring close to $9.50. Prices are strong to 10 higher on killing grades today, and some sales of stock cattle are 15 higher. Most fed cattle from Shamrock, Texas, sold at $7.90 and $8 today, weighing around 1900 lbs., and good to choice quarantine steers brought $8.25 and $8.39, 1029 lbs. average. The bulk of the meat fed cattle from the southwest have been run, and Colorado consignments of pulp fed cattle will not be heavy. Accordingly high prices are predicted. Native cows sell at $5.75 to $7.50, and veal calves up to $11.25. Fancy yearling stock steers bring around $8.25, two up to $7.85, feeders at $7 to $7.85, about 25 to 35 cents higher than a year ago. All classes of killing cattle are selling at record prices for January, and from $1 to $1.75 above this time last January.

Hogs had some losses last week after Tuesday, but closed strong Saturday. The run is 8,000 today, market 5 to 10 higher, with top at $8.50, equal to last Tuesday, high point of last week, bulk of sales $8.10 to $8.45. Average weight here is 180 lbs., which is 25 lbs. less than average for January last year. This means that many inferior hogs are included, widening the range of bulk of sales here, and all fair to good hogs sell around the top. Action of speculative markets recently denote plenty of strength, and with strong fresh pork demand, points to firm markets ahead.

Sheep and lambs displayed weakness after Tuesday last week, but the market is strong to 10 higher today, with all the good lambs at $8 again. Receipts are 7,000 today, a very light Monday run, and it is again demonstrated that owners have only to stop loading to overcome any set backs in the market at this time. Ewes and wethers are extremely scarce and best ones are worth around $5.40 and $5.90, respectively.

J. A. RICHART, Market Correspondent.
